

May 6, 2010, Daily News

Thursday, 06 May 2010

Last Updated Thursday, 06 May 2010

AT&T introduces U-verse Online

IPTV News

The service is available to any online user in the US, and offers additional features and account integration for customers of its managed-network IPTV ... Consolidated Communications Holdings Reports First Quarter 2010 Results MarketWatch (press release)

"Our broadband products grew at a strong pace in the quarter with IPTV and DSL subscribers increasing by 1800 and 2000, respectively. ...

Fibrecity teams up with Dreampark to offer IPTV

ICM Commercial & Business News

The superfast broadband portal Fibrecity has teamed up with middleware provider Dreampark to deliver IPTV. Fibrecity Holdings Limited has announced that ... First Edition Apple TV Selling On eBay [Early Apple Set-Top Box Prototype Sold

...

TFTS (blog)

We'd probably call it IPTV today, but Apple, British Telecom and Belgacom had the idea that customers would subscribe to this new TV service which would ...

Telus passes 200k IPTV subs

IPTV News

Canadian telco Telus had reached 200000 subscribers for its high-definition IPTV service 'Telus TV' by the end of the first quarter of this year, ...

BT signs IPTV networking deal with Alcatel-Lucent

Top 10 Broadband

With BT ploughing resources into its new Vision IPTV service, the company sees the five-year deal with Alcatel-Lucent as a major stride forwards. ...

News Round-Up (IX)

InteractiveTV Today [itvt]

In other Time Warner Cable news: The MSO plans to "pilot" an IPTV service in Los Angeles, that is powered by Microsoft's Mediaroom platform, Light Reading ...

NBN study highlights IPTV hurdles

The Australian

The study says that regional and niche players could invest around $70 per subscriber to establish a basic IPTV service for around 30000 to 40000 customers. ...

Samsung IPTV Deal Has Silver Lining For Foxtel

SmartHouse

By David Richards | Friday | 07/05/2010 COMMENT: The IPTV content deal between Samsung and Foxtel could have a silver lining for the Australian pay TV ...

Swisscom sees IPTV subs nearly double

IPTV News

Swisscom had reached 275000 customers for its IPTV service 'Swisscom TV' by the end of the first quarter of this year, nearly double the amount of one year ...