

Nov. 3 2005 Daily News

Thursday, 03 November 2005

Shanda starts

limited sales of IPTV gaming console for $849

DMasia.com - France

Shanda Interactive Entertainment

Limited, an online game operator in China, is reported to have begun selling its IPTV gaming console for RMB 6,850 ($849) on a ...

SBC

puts some numbers behind IPTV trial

TelephonyOnline - USA

SBC today pulled another inch off the covers of its pending IPTV service, announcing that it has successfully completed a second field trial of the technology ...

FCC

to Act on IPTV Local Franchising Delays

TMCnet - USA

... the Federal Communications

Commission on Thursday announced steps to ensure that state and local authorities don't hamper the rollout of IPTV service by ...

IPTV

Non-Starter: Dump Hollywood

Always On -

USA

... Yet I talk to some technology types who expect to build a market for IPTV with or without Hollywood. They're headed for disaster. Here's their argument. ...

The

iMEDIA Market Report Publishes Interview Segments on CDN IPTV

...

Business Wire (press release) - San Francisco,CA,USA

Guests from Akamai and Vitalstream

discuss their plans to enter the emerging market of IPTV, and how their respective companies are positioning themselves ...

Hot

properties: High-tech condos

Bremerton

Sun (subscription) - WA, United States

... A new wave of voice, video and data systems with names such as VOIP, WiFi and IPTV are creating a kind of alphabet soup that has to be carefully digested ...