

June 27, 2010, Daily News

Sunday, 27 June 2010

Last Updated Sunday, 27 June 2010

RCOM holds on to optic fibre network

Times of India

... are only geared for mobile operators, optic fibre networks can provide solutions for everything between enterprise connectivity to IPTV, and beyond. ...

Etisalat positions UAE for 3-D TV on IPTV

The Nation Newspaper

Etisalat has positioned the United Arab Emirates (UAE) among the first five countries in the world and the first in the Middle East and North Africa to have ...

The BBC trust gives the go ahead for project Canvas

HDTV Org

The BBC trust has given the go ahead for project Canvas, the BBC led IPTV (Internet Protocol TV) initiative. Project Canvas, is a joint venture between ...

BBC Trust OKs Project Canvas&Irm;

Rapid tv news - Chris Forrester

The BBC's governing board has approved the BBC's key participation in Project Canvas. Canvas is backed by the BBC as well as other UK networks (and ...

Telstra restructures marketing team; Collis gets brand strategy

B&T Marketing & Media (subscription)

Claire McFarland will lead the online and media team, while Ben Kinealy will take on the role as head of IPTV. Collis' remit also extends to customer ...

YuuZoo moves HQ to Sydney, appoints new CEO&Irm;

iTWire - Gordon Peters

At Telstra, Taylor had oversight of BigPond digital media business' in online and mobile, as well as the company's emerging IPTV interests. ...

YuuZoo Corporation Appoints Chris Taylor as New Global CEO

PR Newswire (press release)

... recently as Director of Telstra Media, overseeing their BigPond digital media business' in online and mobile as well as their emerging IPTV interests. ...

Virgin Media may joint Project Canvas

TopNews United Kingdom (blog) - Seher Dhillon

Project Canvas, the successor of the now-defunct Project Kangaroo, has faced opposition from the Virgin Media, though it has already obtained approval from ...