

July 21, 2010, Daily News

Wednesday, 21 July 2010
Last Updated Thursday, 22 July 2010

AlcaLu Cements PON Position in China

Light Reading

That growth, along with the ongoing rollout of new-generation DSL technology, will also help boost demand for IPTV, including the provision of ...Brazil's TVA plans IPTV services

IPTV News

Brazilian pay-TV operator TVA is planning to deliver IPTV services to 25 cities in the interior of São Paulo state, using the network of Telefônica, ...

First Low-Cost Microsoft Mediaroom(TM) Compatible Set Top Box Platform ...

MarketWatch (press release)

Microsoft's Mediaroom platform has achieved unparalleled success in establishing the premier solution for IPTV deployments of all sizes. ...

Freeview to broadcast Sky Sports

BBC News

Last month, BT Vision announced it had also agreed a deal with Sky offering consumers access to Sky Sports via its IPTV service from £6.99 per month. ...

FetchTV wants news junkies

Rapid tv news

New Australian IPTV provider FetchTV is aiming to broaden its appeal to the country's culturally diverse population, signing up five international news ...

EroticVision.TV Adds Gay Channel HomoFlicks to IPTV Lineup

AVN News (press release)

By G. Zisk Rice MIAMI—EroticVision.TV has added what it believes to be the first all-gay hardcore adult entertainment channel to its lineup for the Roku ...

Latens expands pay-TV services to Argentina with Viditec

Telecompaper (subscription)

Viditec can now offer the full range of Latens Conditional Access Software (CAS) products for DVB, IPTV and cable/IP hybrid DTH and DTT networks. ...

Hiltron wins satellite receive system contract

Broadcast Engineering

Hiltron Communications has won a major contract for a satellite receive system as part of a large IPTV headend installation together with the German ...

3D TV A Flop Says Retailer IPTV The Future

SmartHouse

According to retail sources the next big thing is IPTV. Ben Kinealy the head of IPTV said that Telstra is currently talking to several major retailers about ...

Singaporean IPTV Platform Slapped with Fine

World Screen

By Mansha Daswani SINGAPORE: The Media Development Authority (MDA) has levied a S$50000 ($36342) fine on SingTel's mioTV as a result of a 12-hour service ...