

Sept 27, 2010, Daily News

Monday, 27 September 2010

Last Updated Monday, 27 September 2010

US pay-TV subs decline in Q2

IPTV News

The number of pay-TV subscribers in the US fell by 167000 during the second quarter of 2010, with the decrease being due mainly to the country's currently ... Du's IPTV wins Metropolitan Infrastructure Innovation award at Global Telecoms

...

AME Info

Du has quickly consolidated its position as the forward-thinking telecommunications provider of the UAE, providing smart, user-friendly IPTV services to ... YouView 'threatens UK IPTV investment'

Digital Spy

By Andrew Laughlin, Technology Reporter Investment in the UK's IPTV sector is under threat from YouView, the BBC-led joint venture formerly known as Project ...

Report: Economy, Not Technology, Driving 'Cord-Cutting'

Home Media Magazine

As pay-TV households, which consist of cable TV, IPTV, and satellite TV subscribers, continue to experience for the first time in years year-over-year ... Omaha Doubletree Selects Tivus' HD IPTV as In-Room Entertainment Solution Provider

TMC Net

The Omaha Doubletree, with a 60-month contract valued at more than $1.2 million, will be provided with Tivus' in-room HD IPTV (News - Alert) entertainment ... Ruckus Wireless Steps Up European Expansion to Meet Demand for Better WiFi

TMCnet

"Having gotten our start in this market selling in-home IPTV (News - Alert) systems to the world's elite broadband providers, we have since expanded our ...

Avoid the Pain of Creating Your Own IPTV System

VON

IPTV is an increasingly critical add-on to win high-value residential customers. But building a complete IPTV headend from scratch can cost upwards of $3 ... YouView 'putting rivals' investment in internet TV at risk'

The Guardian

Avista Partners argued that YouView, which is scheduled to launch in the first half of next year, is "putting existing and future investment in the UK IPTV ... YouTube and Google tipped to drive IPTV sales

Current.com.au

By Keri Algar SYDNEY, NSW: Australian IPTV sales could benefit from a surge of interest if the recent live broadcasting trials by YouTube and the launch of ...