

Nov 19, 2010, Daily News

Friday, 19 November 2010

Last Updated Friday, 19 November 2010

IPTV comes of age

Econsultancy (blog)

In a further smart move, Google are shipping 10000 free IPTV devices to coders to encourage the development of applications. Manufacturers will ship 40 ...

HP's DreamScreen To Offer IPTV And Computing Services

CRN.in

Launched by actress Shilpa Shetty in New Delhi, the HP DreamScreen will offer IPTV and computing services that can be accessed online through the new device ...

Yahoo Emerges on the Connected IPTV Scene

TMC Net

By Susan J. Campbell, TMCnet Contributing Editor Yahoo! is doing what it can to continue to promote its brand in solutions that present strong opportunities ... The Country Network Uses KIT Digital's IPTV Management Platform to Increase ...

TMCnet

By Nathesh, TMCnet Contributor KIT digital, a provider of video asset management solutions, announced a partnership with The Country Network (TCN), ...

ARM reaches into server and IPTV markets

Techwatch

The IPTV service currently only supports Intel Atom Chips which are typically more expensive than ARM's technology. OneFi secures MOU with Holly Springs

Trading Markets (press release)

IPTV solutions provider OneFi Technology Inc (Pink Sheets: ONFI | PowerRating) announced on Thursday that it has secured a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) ..

What Does Cox's 3G Move Really Mean?&Irm;

IT Business Edge (blog) - Carl Weinschenk

That started with video, a business it came to dominate and in which it still is the big Kahuna, though satellite and IPTV competition has taken a bit of ...

Parade of Exhibitors March Toward 2011 AEE&Irm;

AVN News (press release)

... offering a wide range of cinema gonzo and high-end features delivered across all media platforms such as broadcast, IPTV, web, mobile, print, ...

US subscription TV posts another quarterly subscriber loss&Irm;

Screen Digest (press release) (subscription) - Amer Barghouth

The slowing of the decline can be largely attributed to a modest uptick in net subscriber additions in the IPTV sector from 427000 in Q2 to 485000 in Q3, ...