

Jan. 4, 2011, Daily News

Tuesday, 04 January 2011

Last Updated Tuesday, 04 January 2011

Microsoft to launch Windows TV software – Rumour StrategyEye

By Drew Heatley Microsoft is to enter the internet-connected TV (IPTV) market this year by launching a stripped-down version of Windows for connected TVs ...

CES: Microsoft to enter the Internet TV Market with STB?
LCDTV.net

Joining the herd of other players offering IPTV services (Apple, Google, LG, Tivo and so on), Microsoft may be looking to get back into the TV game with a ...

IPTV: Vizio Unveils VIA Plus Ecosystem
TMCnet

By Mandira Srivastava, TMCnet Contributor It seems that the entertainment industry is slowly shifting to an on-demand business model. ...

Research and Markets: Germany - Convergence - Triple Play and Digital TV ...
Business Wire (press release)

The capacity for consumers to make use of VoD and IPTV services will increase considerably during the next three years as cabled 120Mb/s networks increase ...

IPTV provider sees motion control interface as key to customer retention
Rapid tv news

Trying to plug what many see as a growing gap in the complexity of IPTV services and the ability to interact effectively with them, Free, who claims to be ...

SeaChange's on Demand Group Provides 3D Movie Experience for du's IPTV VOD Service
Trading Markets (press release)

Multi-screen content aggregator On Demand Group, a subsidiary of SeaChange International, has completed a deal to deliver theatrical 3D content over UAE's ...

Hitachi CinemaStar 5K2000 and C5K750 Hard Drives Released [CES 2011]
StorageReview.com

Hitachi has released two new drive families to address the DVR, IPTV STB, video surveillance and emerging hard drive-embedded TV markets. ...

Hitachi CinemaStar HDD Unwrapped at CES 2011
eWeek

The consumer electronic optimized hard drives are intended for AV use such as in digital video recorders, IPTV set-top-boxes, and video surveillance ...