

Nov. 29 2005 Daily News

Tuesday, 29 November 2005

TI Unveils IPTV Lineup

Light Reading - USA

ROME -- Starting December 2, Telecom Italia launches TV on the Internet (IPTV - Internet Protocol TV), enabling access to movies, sports, news, music and ...

DB Finds Telecom Italia IPTV Very Expensive

New Ratings - USA

1716 GMT [Dow Jones] Deutsche Bank finds Telecom Italia's (TI) new IPTV EUR45.90 monthly offer "surprisingly" expensive considering the nature of its package. ...

IPTV in Europe Sees France as the Leading Country with Future ...

Business Wire (press release) - San Francisco,CA,USA

... and Markets (<http://www.researchandmarkets.com/reports/c28598>) has announced the addition of Screen Digest's latest report: European IPTV: Market Assessment ...

SupportSoft and Thomson Team to Automate IPTV, VoIP and Broadband ...

PR Newswire (press release) - New York,NY,USA

... for "zero-touch configuration" of DSL CPE, as well as online, easy-to-install customer-driven installation for either new VoIP or IPTV service upgrades at a ...

Telecom Italia to launch IPTV on Friday

TeleGeography - Washington,D.C.,USA

Telecom Italia will launch its IPTV service on 2 December, offering users in four cities premium broadcast content direct to their TV sets via DSL. ...

SMG Prepares For Shanghai IPTV Services

Pacific Epoch (subscription) - Hong Kong,Hong Kong

Shanghai Media Group (SMG) announced on Monday that it will officially launch IPTV service in Shanghai's Minhang District and the Pudong New Area in December ...

Telecom Italia to launch IPTV on 2 December

Telecom Paper (subscription) - Houten,Netherlands

... current 4 Mbps access. Telecom Italia is planning to invest around EUR 350 million for the IPTV project. Speaking during the presentation ...

IPTV comes into commercial use in Shanghai

Shanghai Daily - Shanghai,China

... The IPTV service will charge 60 yuan (US$7.42) a month, said Shen Hongbo, assistant to the general manager of Shanghai Telecom. ...

Orca Hires Industry Vet

Light Reading - USA

RA'ANANA, Israel -- Orca Interactive (LSE:ORCA - News), a global market leader in developing middleware and applications for IPTV, today announced that Dr ...