

Feb. 17, 2011, Daily News

Thursday, 17 February 2011
 Last Updated Saturday, 19 February 2011

AT&T's U-verse Making Its Way to Fairfax

Patch.com

Ma Bell's speedy IPTV service is expected to be rolled out to Fairfax subscribers in the next couple of months. By Desiree DeNunzio | Email the author | 7:17am If you're an AT&T broadband subscriber and your connection has been painfully slow, ...

ATIS updates QoS metrics for linear IPTV

IPTV News

The ATIS IPTV Interoperability Forum (IIF) has updated its standard on Quality of Service (QoS) metrics for linear IPTV services. In collaboration with the Video Services Forum (VSF), the IIF has implemented several updates intended to improve its ..

NCC policy on converged digital services

International Law Office

Chunghwa Telecom - Taiwan's largest telecommunications provider – has so far connected to around 10% of households with televisions by offering its wall-gardened Internet Protocol television (IPTV), multimedia-on-demand service. ...

Vodafone officially launches hybrid TV platform

TeleGeography

The service is based on the company's 'Vodafone TV Center' box, which allows customers to receive analogue cable and digital satellite channels alongside Vodafone TV's IPTV offering, Videothek, available over its DSL network. The box, which comes with ... Europe Cable Operators Fight Over-the-Top TV Platforms

TMCnet

By Madhubanti Rudra, TMCnet Contributor An increasing numbers of households in Europe are dumping cable television for more sophisticated Internet TV, or IPTV, where content is available directly through Web browsers. This trend has left the European ...

connectiVISION Networks to Debut an Integrated Away-From-Home TV Network ...

PR Newswire (press release)

connectiVISION's network programming and IPTV platform can be viewed at the ViewSonic Booth (#617) at the Digital Signage Expo in Las Vegas from February 22-24, 2011. "connectiVISION's dedication to a state-of-the-art, integrated television programming ... SFR enhances TV app for smartphones

IPTV News

French telco SFR has enhanced its app for iOS and Android smartphones and tablets by enabling its IPTV subscribers to watch over 120 live TV channels on their mobile devices. The app was launched in late 2010, and in addition to enabling users to watch ... ATIS updates QoS metrics for linear IPTV

IPTV News

The ATIS IPTV Interoperability Forum (IIF) has updated its standard on Quality of Service (QoS) metrics for linear IPTV services. In collaboration with the Video Services Forum (VSF), the IIF has implemented several updates intended to improve its ...

Swisscom enjoys 81% growth in IPTV subs

IPTV News

Swisscom had reached 421000 subscribers for its IPTV service 'Swisscom TV' by the end of 2010, up 81.5% from one year previously, having added 63000 new customers in the last yearly quarter alone. The telco adds that price erosion in its Swiss business ...