

May 13, 2011, Daily News

Friday, 13 May 2011

Last Updated Friday, 13 May 2011

IPTV: Competition in Flux

Vision 2 Mobile

While IP is widely seen as the future of video delivery, IPTV is only a nascent platform globally. Technology, market dynamics and business models are far from being settled, spurring experimentation and innovation as carriers consider monetization ...

Internode deploys multicast to national Agile network

Computerworld Australia

Internet service provider Internode has completed a national deployment of multicasting architecture on its Agile DSLAM network, allowing it to officially launch FetchTV internet protocol television (IPTV) services since first partnering with the ...

Ukrtelecom hands ZTE CPE contract; privatisation proceeds banked

TeleGeography

China's ZTE Corporation has announced that its home gateway customer premises equipment (CPE) products will be widely deployed in Ukraine under a new deal with Ukrtelecom to support broadband and IPTV services. Ukrtelecom has a network capacity of one ...

Bell Canada finds IPTV traction

IPTV News

Bell Canada has reported that increased traction of its new IPTV service 'Fibe TV' (launched in September of last year) has enabled it to gain approximately 12000 pay-TV customers in Ontario and Québec in the first quarter of this year, despite losing ...

FOXTEL Senior Product Manager – IPTV – North Ryde, Sydney

MuMbrella

•Contribute to the growth of FOXTEL's current IPTV platform through the creation of new devices, especially web, mobile and OTT TV platforms, as well as modifications and improvements to our existing offerings. •Create and maintain the Product Roadmap ...

CenturyLink flips the IPTV switch in Florida's capital region

FierceTelecom

June 6-8, 2011 – Donald E. Stephens Convention Center Rosemont, IL CenturyLink (NYSE: CTL) is turning on its Prism IPTV channel in Florida's capital city region to tackle the area's cable and satellite companies. This is the latest IPTV deployment ...

Telefónica closes in on 3mn pay-TV subs globally

IPTV News

In Spain, Telefónica reached 786000 IPTV subscribers at the end of March, up 7% from one year previously. Its Czech subsidiary Telefónica O2 Czech Republic had reached 129000 subscribers for its IPTV service 'O2 TV', down slightly from 138000 one year ...