

May 31, 2011, Daily News

Tuesday, 31 May 2011

Last Updated Tuesday, 31 May 2011

Up to 100 online video and IPTV staff to go at BBC

Rapid tv news

All 250 Vision staff across production centres in London , Salford, Bristol and Birmingham will be affected, revealed Victoria Jaye, the BBC's new head of IPTV and TV Online Content which also includes the key TV & iPlayer division. ...

Telekom Austria overhauls IPTV service

IPTV News

Telekom Austria has rebranded its IPTV service under the new name 'A1 Kabel TV', and has also started expanding the service to include more regional and foreign-language channels. The telco launched its IPTV service in September 2007 with the name of ...

Telekom Austria rebrands IPTV as A1 Kabel TV

Broadband TV News

Austria's incumben telecoms operator A1 Teleom Austria has rebranded as A1 and at the same time has changed the name of its IPTV service aonTV into A1 Kabel TV. The platform is also increasing the number of channels and introducing faster zapping ...

Bouygues Telecom selects Celeno Wi-Fi tech for next-gen BBox

IPTV News

French telco Bouygues Telecom has selected Wi-Fi technology from Israeli firm Celeno for the next generation of its 'Bbox' units, which combine IPTV, broadband and telephony services. Bouygues Telecom is to incorporate Celeno's dual-band Wi-Fi module ...

IPTV revenues in MEA region to grow tenfold by 2016

IPTV News

This is expected to be particularly pronounced in Israel, where the government is pushing DTT to force down pay-TV subscription rates, according to the report. Meanwhile, the number of pay IPTV homes in the region is expected to overtake cable TV subs ...

Tivus, Inc. (TIVU) Commences Phase II Development in Hospitality IPTV Environment

IBTimes Hong Kong

"Another Tivus first, ad-supported IPTV allows hotels to migrate away from legacy video-on-demand systems," said Prakash recently. "[Our] ad-supported, revenue-sharing business model capitalizes on new, fully interactive IPTV technology offering a ...

Swisscom eases past 500k IPTV subs milestone

IPTV News

Swisscom has reached 500000 customers for its IPTV service 'Swisscom TV', four and a half years after its launch, and has indicated that it is planning to expand and improve the service in order to sign up the next half million customers more quickly. ...