July 18, 2011, Daily News

Monday, 18 July 2011
Last Updated Monday, 18 July 2011

Interactive TV News Round-Up (VII): Suddenlink, Time Warner Cable, Vision IPTV
InteractiveTV Today [itvt]
London-based Vision IPTV   has announced the launch of a white-label video app and player   solution  that it says will allow broadcasters to deliver programming to   iPhone  and iPad users quickly and cost-effectively. "Vision IPTV can create a dedicated and ...

GO deploys Entone for IPTV & OTT services
Malta Independent Online
Entone,   Inc., a leading provider of Hybrid TV solutions, announced on   Wednesday  that its Kamai&trade; Hybrid OTT Receiver has been chosen by GO for   its  nationwide IPTV and interactive online (OTT) deployment. &ldquo;We needed a reliable and flexible platform for ...

IAN invests $1m in Vayavya Labs
Times of India
Its services business is focused on providing integration services, design services and solutions in the Digital TV, IPTV and set-top box domains. Currently, Vayavya has about 20 engineers supporting this area. Vayavya Labs' software facilities in ... BSNL Launches Voice Video over Broadband (VVOBB)
Tech2
After the launch of IPTV   and 3G services in the recent past, BSNL have now tied up with IT   solutions provider, Sai Infosystems India to introduce voice-and-video   facility on BSNL's broadband service. This voice-and-video service will  cover a wide ... Telcos face bandwidth struggle
Siliconrepublic.com
Findings from Kendall's recent report on the IPTV world market indicate that 75pc of IPTV   households receive their television over an ADSL connection. Future   proofing with fibre-to-the-home infrastructure is prohibitively   expensive and time intensive. ... OTT Video Cause Bandwidth Challenge For IPTV
MediaPost Publications
by   Wayne Friedman, 5 minutes ago So-called "Over The Top"  Internet-driven   video services are causing bandwidth problems for  telcos and IPTV services. Austin-Tx-based IMS Research estimates bandwidth use for telcos and IPTV services was at 44% capacity ...
Hollywood Will Have Final Say Over Netflix OZ Service
ChannelNews
Some analysts claim that Netflix may wait until TV vendors launch their new IP TV range in September 2012 which is when new model are expected that will have built in processors from the likes of Intel. Some IPTV models will also have built in Flash so ...
 Microsoft postpones Mediaroom IPTV developer conference until early 2012
ZDNet (blog)
By Mary Jo Foley | July 18, 2011, 10:29am PDT Microsoft has postponed its usual fall Mediaroom IPTV   Technical Conference until some time in early 2012. Does the delay   mean  Orapa is behind schedule? Mary Jo Foley has covered the tech   industry  for 25 ...