

Aug 2, 2011, Daily News

Tuesday, 02 August 2011

Last Updated Tuesday, 02 August 2011

Euronews: Deutsche Telekom Wields the Axe

Light Reading

Monaco Telecom is to deploy Netgem's nCloud multimedia server software for a new service that will enable its customers to view its IPTV video-on-demand offering on wireless-enabled devices such as tablets and smartphones. The nCloud is also integrated ...

TiVUS Successfully Deploys Ad-Insertion System at Philadelphia Hotel Property

MarketWatch (press release)

2, 2011 /PRNewswire via COMTEX/ -- TiVUS, Inc. (pinksheets:TIVU) today announced it has completed deployment of its new television ad-insertion technology at the Company's inaugural HD IPTV in-room entertainment installation in a 1408 room Host Hotels ...

Entone Helps Serbian Operator with IPTV Launch

Vision 2 Mobile

Telekom Srbija has picked Entone's Amulet HD IPTV Receiver with DVR capabilities for its national, HD IPTV rollout. "We are pleased to be partnering with Telekom Srbija, an innovative and industry leading operator," said Mark Evensen, CTO at Entone, ...

Hawaiian Telcom stays mum about its IPTV strategy

FierceTelecom

Hawaiian Telcom may be determined to take on the state's near-monopoly video provider Oceanic Time Warner with its own IPTV service on Oahu, but does not want to reveal when it is actually going to start delivering the service. ...

CNTV Sues China Telecom IPTV for IPR Infringement

Marbridge Consulting

CCTV's national online TV station, CNTV, recently issued a statement announcing that it would make large-scale efforts to protect its intellectual property rights from infringement by IPTV service platforms offering unauthorized broadcasts of CCTV ...

Monaco Telecom turns iPad into wireless TV

Total Telecom

Monaco Telecom on Tuesday announced plans to enable its IPTV customers to access television content via any wireless device, ...

Aussie pay-TV revenues forecast to grow 5% annually

IPTV News

... a number of factors, including the planned merger between Foxtel and Austar and ongoing improvements being made by Telstra to its IPTV service 'T-Box'. ...