

Sept 2, 2011, Daily News

Friday, 02 September 2011

Last Updated Saturday, 03 September 2011

M6 Group Selects Anevia for Multi-Site IPTV Head-End

MarketWatch (press release)

The M6 Group chose Anevia to supply its headquarters, just outside of Paris in Neuilly sur Seine, with an IPTV head-end solution over a fiber optic network to replace a legacy coaxial and twisted pair based system. Anevia built a solution for the M6 ...

Interactive TV News Round-Up (IV): Espial, Vodafone Iceland ...

‎InteractiveTV Today [itvt]

Espial has announced that it has been tapped to provide an IPTV solution for Vodafone ... "As part of the IPTV solution, Espial is providing the following ...

VOD - GOOG

devolo Shows dLAN 500 AVtriple+ Powerline Adapter for HD and 3D ...

3Droundabout

In Hall 13 at Stand 273 of the IPTV zone, the Aachen, Germany-based powerline specialist will present two new products for the areas of hybrid TV and ...

Exterity announces IPTV training

InAVate

Exterity will combine its 10 years of IPTV knowledge with the respected CPD training structure to provide attendees with a unique service. ...

Vodafone Germany to bring TV to LTE

Broadband TV News - Robert Briel

The operator also said it will add home networking functionality to its hybrid STBs, which now offer IPTV alongside satellite DTH reception. ...

Guest-Tek Launches Blue Pond Media's ACT HD Programming on IPTV Network

PR.com (press release)

“As an international provider of IPTV services to the hospitality industry, Guest-Tek provides an ideal distribution path for our suite of HD quality video programming,” stated James Condon, Managing Partner at Blue Pond Media. ...

Ericsson Claims AlcaLu IPTV Scalp

Light Reading

Ericsson AB (Nasdaq: ERIC) is claiming something of an IPTV coup by saying it has replaced Alcatel-Lucent (NYSE: ALU) as the IPTV systems supplier at Taiwan's national operator, Chunghwa Telecom Co. Ltd. (NYSE: CHT), one of the world's most experienced ...