

Sept 21, 2011, Daily News

Wednesday, 21 September 2011

Last Updated Wednesday, 21 September 2011

China Wi-Max Communications Enters Agreements to Develop IPTV in China

MarketWatch (press release)

Second, CHWM has entered into an agreement with the premier IPTV technology and content provider, 3Screen Group Ltd, Hong Kong, United Kingdom, inclusive with their partner DigiSoft.tv Ltd. Ireland. Together, through CHWM, they will deliver a complete ...

Telcos make progress with IPTV, but cable gains upper hand in triple play battle

FierceTelecom

While traditional telcos have been making progress in fighting back landline voice loss with the introduction of new IPTV services, cable appears to be taking the lead. As pointed out in TeleGeography's GlobalComms Pay-TV research service, ...

Verizon brings TV Everywhere a step closer

IPTV News

US service provider Verizon has launched free apps for a number of iOS devices (including the iPhone and iPad) which enable customers to access its video-on-demand service 'Flex View' anywhere they like. The telco launched the Flex View app in November ...

UAE telecom sharing deal not to include TV

AME Info

IPTV - television via the same fibre optic cables that provide fixed broadband - would not be part of the initial agreement because the two operators' ...

Discovery: Netflix deal complements cable and satellite distribution

Rapid tv news - Michelle Clancy

For its part, Discovery stressed that it doesn't feel that embracing Netflix will cause issues with its cable, IPTV and satellite partners. ...

Cable Pulling Ahead of Telcos Globally IPTV Doing Well, Cable ...

Dslreports

According to the research firm, global IPTV subscribers passed the 50 million mark, while cable operators now stake claim to 100 million broadband ...

Cable wins broadband subs as telcos take TV

GigaOm - Stacey Higginbotham

The research firm posted data that shows while telcos are winning subscribers with IPTV, they are losing the war on digital voice and broadband, ...

TIVUS turns Cash Drain into Cash Cow

Beacon Equity Research

It's IPTV, Internet Protocol television, integrating television's huge audience with ... IPTV is seen by many as the next major step in home entertainment, ...