

Nov. 3, 2011, Daily News

Thursday, 03 November 2011

Last Updated Sunday, 06 November 2011

Plex app hits Google TV SlashGear

Streaming media service Plex has launched a Google TV version, putting its IPTV content on the latest version of Google's smart TV platform. All of the channels from the Android version of Plex are present, and the company says the "vast majority" of ...

PHXX Unveils Array of Over-the-Top Video (OTT) Apps for Etisalat at IPTV World MEA MarketWatch (press release)

PHXX - a platform development company with expertise in over-the-top video, new media and gaming - displayed examples of more than a dozen applications as part of its Reach OTT Services at the IPTV World MEA conference. PHXX, based in Central Florida, ...

KyLinTV Continues to Deliver More Exclusive Chinese HD Channels PR Newswire (press release)

3, 2011 /PRNewswire-Asia/ -- World-leading Chinese IPTV provider KyLinTV announced today the official launch of two more HD channels -- KyLinTV Variety HD Channel and Kunlun Drama HD Channel as part of its KyLinTV package. All KyLinTV subscribers in ... The Latest IPTV Set-Top Boxes from SmartLabs Will Enhance the Quality of ... SoftPressRelease.com (press release)

Following an open tender process MTS, a leading telecommunications operator in Russia and the CIS, has chosen SmartLabs as a provider of IPTV set-top boxes for the MTS Home TV service. MTS, a leader in the telecommunications market in Russia and CIS, ...

Bell says IPTV footprint spans more than 1.5 million homes The Wire Report

Bell also saw 26000 new TV subscribers--a 40.5 per cent increase in net additions--and reported that its broadband IPTV footprint now spans more than 1.5 million homes in Montreal and Toronto. The company said that growth came primarily thanks to the ...

Wireless data, IPTV fuels gains for MTS The Wire Report

MTS Allstream continues to reap the benefits of its new HSPA+ network as Manitoba's largest telecom provider recorded third-quarter growth in wireless data and IPTV revenues, the company said Thursday. Powered by a 47.8 per cent growth in data revenues ...