

Nov. 20, 2011, Daily News

Sunday, 20 November 2011

Last Updated Sunday, 20 November 2011

Telstra's digital man has the goods

The Australian

Last week, Telstra boss David Thodey announced that Mr Ellis, TVNZ's chief executive, would head the new Telstra division Telstra Digital Media, overseeing BigPond, Telstra's Foxtel investment, IPTV, Trading Post and the telco's struggling Sensis ...

IPTV battle lines drawn

The Australian

The days of those complaints and the one-way nature of the television are numbered as the ubiquity of high-speed internet access ushers in a new era of a more connected broadcast medium through the adoption of IPTV, or internet protocol television, ...

Galaxie doubles channel count to 100

Cartt.ca (subscription)

The Galaxie service is distributed to more than 10 million homes in Canada, in addition to Europe and the US via cable, satellite and IPTV. ...

AMX Releases Vision2 Streaming Video System with Next-Gen Innovations

TVover.net

AMX announces the immediate availability of its advanced Vision2 IPTV system (version 7.2). The innovative video solution includes several new capabilities ...

Altibox Deploys Envivio Encoders for Norway's First Multi-screen ...

ConnectedPlanet (blog)

"We wanted to go beyond our existing IPTV, voice and data services and enable video ... Every day, Envivio encoders ingest more than 16000 live IPTV, ...

KPN adds 'world' channels to iTV line-up

Broadband TV News - Robert Briel

Dutch IPTV operator KPN Interactieive TV plans to add a number of 'world' channels to its line-up. KPN has added with immediate effect Hindi channel Star ...

The war for your eyeballs

Muswellbrook Chronicle - Asher Moses

The newest player in the IPTV market is Quickflix, which has long offered mail order DVD ... IPTV is set to increasingly challenge even players like Foxtel, ...