

April 9, 2012, Daily News

Monday, 09 April 2012

Last Updated Monday, 09 April 2012

Technically Speaking: IPTV vs. Internet TV

Denver Post

By The Denver Post IPTV stands for Internet Protocol Television, a service that delivers movies and TV shows over a closed or dedicated fiber-optic network. It often requires special equipment such as a set-top box and is offered by some phone ...

Toshiba to Sell Video Servers That Use Streaming Hardware Instead of CPU, Memory

PCWorld

It can handle IPTV (Internet Protocol television) as well as HTTP adaptive streaming. The hardware will be included in Toshiba servers from this year, which typically cost ¥5 million to ¥8 million (US$62000 to $98000), and will not be available as a ...

Revel Resort Opens With SuiteLinq

MarketWatch (press release)

At Revel, SuiteLinq's Q | Vision IPTV/VOD service will deliver interactive guest services and property information along with dynamic free-to-guest channels and on-demand programming via the in-room television. Q | Touch will provide in-room tablets ...

Mailbag: DirecTV deal doesn't bar potential CenturyLink video service

Denver Post

By The Denver Post Q: I have not heard any updates on CenturyLink's IPTV plans. Are they locked in with a contract with DirectTV? — John Hill A: CenturyLink's reseller agreement with DirecTV does not preclude the phone company from offering its own ...

100000 customers tuning in to MTS TV

Stockhouse

MTS launched its industry-leading digital television service (MTS Classic TV) in 2003 and its IPTV television service (MTS Ultimate TV) in 2009. The exceptional quality and variety of choice of MTS's TV offerings have propelled this growth in just nine ...

Alticast Partners with Brightcove to Expand Television Outside the Living Room

MarketWatch (press release)

This end-to-end system is built on the company's longstanding expertise in open, standards-based software and supports a variety of systems including cable, satellite, DTT, hybrid and IPTV. Brightcove's cloud-based Video Cloud online video platform and ...

ACCC approves Austar-Foxtel merger

The Australian

The undertakings will stop Foxtel of gaining exclusive IPTV rights for more than 60 TV channels. IPTV is internet protocol TV, delivered via the internet. Foxtel also cannot gain exclusive mobile rights and is restricted in the IPTV rights it can gain ...

Foxtel blocked from internet rights in Austar merger deal

ABC Online

The Competition and Consumer Commission has banned Foxtel from negotiating exclusive content deals for internet television which had the potential to lock out fledgling IPTV companies such as Fetch TV and Quickflix. The regulator's concerns centre on ...

Foxtel's Undertakings Allay ACCC's Competition Concerns Over Bid For Austar NASDAQ

According to undertakings, Foxtel's will not be able to acquire exclusive Internet protocol television (IPTV) rights for a range of attractive television program and movie content. It also prohibits Foxtel from exclusively acquiring any movie delivered ...

Broadcom Completes BroadLight Acquisition Zacks.com

The ubiquitous demand for increased bandwidth for IPTV services, HDTV broadcasting and high speed Internet access continues to drive momentum for deploying fiber networks. Management stated that the addition of Broadcom will broaden the company's ...