

June 10, 2012, Daily News

Sunday, 10 June 2012

Last Updated Sunday, 10 June 2012

Dan Wardell's Reading Road Trip to stop in Council Bluffs

SW Iowa News

Dan Wardell, the host of Iowa Public Television's "Kids Clubhouse," will bring the IPTV Reading Road trip to the Council Bluffs Public Library, 400 Willow Ave., on Monday. This year, he'll present two shows: One starts at 9 am and the other starts at ...Villisca Library hosts special guest

KMAland

The Villisca Public Library will be hosting Dan Wardell from Kids Club on IPTV 1:30 pm Monday afternoon in the Villisca Community Building, as part of Dan's ...

Sunrise selects Huawei to manage its mobile, fixed network

Computer Business Review

Switzerland-based telecommunications provider Sunrise has awarded a five year contract to Huawei for managing its mobile and fixed network including internet and IPTV. The agreement will see Huawei provide new services, including design and planning, ...

'Google Fiber' Appears on TV Box Application at US FCC

BusinessWeek

By Todd Shields on June 05, 2012 A digital-equipment maker has applied for US regulatory clearance for a device labeled "Google fiber" that's described in filings as a set-top box for video service. Humax Co. Ltd. (115160), based in Gyeonggi, ...

Hardware For Blazing Fast Google Fiber Shows Up at the FCC

Gizmodo - Jun 5, 2012

A few months ago we heard rumors about Google's plan to launch a TV or video service, which would run on the Google Fiber that's currently being installed in Kansas City. Now Engadget has turned up more evidence that this might be the case at the FCC.

Apple opens doors to developers on Apple TV

FierceIPTV

Apple Inc. (Nasdaq: AAPL) is apparently serious about this Apple TV stuff, according to BGR. In a blog post, BGR founder Jonathan Geller reported that the ...

Sigma Designs launches media processors

Telecompaper (subscription)

Fabless semiconductor provider Sigma Designs has introduced its SMP8672 media processor to deliver advanced features for connected media players, IPTV and hybrid STBs. The SMP8672 product series also migrates to Sigma's SDK which offers a porting layer ...

Chunghwa telecom uses Sigma Designs' chipset to enable IPTV home services ...

EE Herald

Sigma Designs has announced its next generation CG2210 HomePlug AV solution for delivering IPTV services in consumer homes. Sigma Designs has said that this solution will be used by Taiwan's service provider Chunghwa Telecom.