

June 18, 2012, Daily News

Monday, 18 June 2012

Last Updated Tuesday, 19 June 2012

Netgem eyes mobility market with PlugnSurf acquisition

IPTV News

French firm Netgem, a provider of connected home entertainment solutions to multi service operators, has continued its run of aggressive growth with the ...

GlobeCast partners with beIN Sport channels

Broadband TV News

The agreement involves terrestrial contribution links to bring content to the channels' Paris-area control center, as well as distribution links from the IPTV ...

CenturyLink ramping up IPTV launch in Colorado Springs

FierceIPTV

CenturyLink is returning--if it ever really left--to its Colorado roots in seeking to deliver IPTV service in Colorado Springs.

Ooyala Raises $35 Million to Drive Standardization of Its Platform for ...

MarketWatch (press release)

Telstra's current multi-device IPTV offerings will be enhanced through the integration of Ooyala's online video technology and analytics. Combining Telstra and ...

Expanding the BBC's Global Experience Language

BBC News (blog)

Developing effective guidelines for IPTV offered up many challenges. The key to adapting GEL for TV was to get a clear understanding of platform limitations and ...

Indian state of Goa to get IPTV soon

IPTV News

Indian telco BSNL is preparing to launch IPTV and high-speed broadband services in the state of Goa, having already installed GPON equipment in 13 of its ...

Telstra plugs $35m into Ooyala for IPTV

ZDNet Australia

Telstra has invested $35 million in US-based IPTV video company Ooyala, in a move that will see Telstra integrate Ooyala's technology into its IPTV platform.

Telstra's scoops in-house YouTube contender

Register

The timing of the investment and blossoming relationship is curious as Telstra's IPTV operations undergoes its biggest review to date under its new group ...