

July 8, 2012, Daily News

Sunday, 08 July 2012

Last Updated Sunday, 08 July 2012

Opera bets big on digitisation wave in India
NDTV

... Norway-based Opera Software said it looks to partner with set top box (STB) manufactures, which will help DTH, IPTV and cable subscribers to access Internet ...

Malaysians watch movies more than sports, says Nielsen study
The Malaysian Reserve

With many new Internet Protocol Television (IPTV) players expressing interest in entering the television broadcasting industry, sports content is often touted as ...

TECH DEALS: NBN Co's multicast rethink
Technology Spectator

So without scale a provider has no chance and that in turn is bad news for Fetch TV and Foxtel's ambitions in the IPTV space. Of course the NBN has always ...

Kids' animated comedy--that's cartoons--headed for Russian IPTV
FierceIPTV

An interesting alliance between Viacom International Media Networks and Russian production company Brazelevs will bring a "short-form animated comedy ...

ATEME: TITAN Powers Combined IPTV/OTT Service for Saudi ...
MarketWatch (press release)

Intigral first deployed ATEME's file transcoding software early in 2012, for delivering VOD to STC's IPTV customers in Saudi Arabia, but has now ...

Research and Markets: Digital TV World Household Forecasts
Generation NT (US)

Pay IPTV will increase by 114 million, with pay DTH up 66 million and FTA DTH 31 ... Pay IPTV will contribute another 165 million households, up from only 51 ...

Opera bets big on digitisation
Business Standard

... on Sunday said it looked to partner with set-top box (STB) manufacturers, to help DTH, IPTV and cable subscribers access internet from their television sets.