

July 12, 2012, Daily News

Thursday, 12 July 2012

Last Updated Thursday, 12 July 2012

ABI: Pay-TV operators have hard time working with new breed of connected ...

FierceIPTV

A slow moving business model, less technically savvy consumers and, possibly most important of all, five-to-seven-year old set-top box technology is slowing pay-TV providers as they try to keep up with connected TVs and iPads, according to ABI Research ...

Logic Cayman to launch IPTV in Q4

TeleGeography

Logic Cayman, a wholly owned subsidiary of Bermuda-based KeyTech Holding Limited, has confirmed plans to launch a new internet protocol television (IPTV) service over a purpose-built fibre-optic network in the Cayman Islands, Caycompass.com reports.

CenturyLink gets green light to offer IPTV in Colorado Springs, Colo.

FierceTelecom

Comcast's days as the only video provider in Colorado Springs, Colo. are numbered as CenturyLink won a cable franchise to operate in the city this week.

Submarine cable operators protest FCC's USF contribution proposal

FierceTelecom

Frontier secures $72M Connect America loan to expand broadband reach · Brazil's Oi selects Alcatel-Lucent, Microsoft for its IPTV roll out · Gartner: Global ...

Bulgaria's Vivacom deploys GPON tech to boost broadband ...

IPTV News

Bulgarian service provider Vivacom has chosen gigabit passive optical networking (GPON) solutions from Alcatel-Lucent to enable faster broadband speeds for ...

BT Vision chief: "Our credibility is growing"

IPTV News

UK telco BT is finally beginning to achieve real traction in the market with its IPTV service 'BT Vision', and will go on to even greater things now that it has acquired the broadcast rights to 38 English Premier League football games, according to ...

Brazil's Oi gives ALU, Microsoft the nod for IPTV project

IPTV News

Brazilian service provider Oi has chosen Alcatel-Lucent to act as equipment supplier and systems integrator of the IPTV platform it is preparing to launch in the ...