Verizon confident of cable deal approval, even as opposition hardens

FierceIPTV

It's either a show of false bravado or Verizon Wireless (NYSE: VZ) knows something that the rest of us don't. The mobile carrier said it's confident regulators will this summer approve its plans to co-market services with a leading group of cable ...

REDtone exits IPTV to focus on broadband, data services

The Malaysian Reserve

REDtone is now no longer in the hyper-competitive Internet protocol television (IPTV) business and wants to completely focus on the growing broadband and data services market for the next financial year, according to a source in the company. However ...REDtone exits IPTV to focus on voice and data

FierceIPTV

IPTV is hot in Asia and particularly hot (and competitive) in Malaysia, which is primarily why REDtone (OTC: RTAS) is moving away from IPTV and pushing forward with a transformation from primarily a voice business into data and broadband services.

Olympics showcase TV Everywhere - or so I've heard

FierceIPTV

Jim Barthold, FierceIPTV I did not watch the London Olympics on any of the apparently thousands of outlets on which it was being shown. This doesn't mean I was unaware of what was going on--I'm no troglodyte, despite what some might think--it means I ...
