

Oct. 5, 2012, Daily News

Friday, 05 October 2012

Last Updated Friday, 05 October 2012

Consumers loving YouView IPTV, says Lord Sugar
uSwitch.com (Tech)

UK consumers have responded well to the launch of the YouView IPTV service, Lord Sugar has claimed. The former Amstrad boss - brought in to spearhead the YouView project in 2011 - took to micro-blogging website Twitter to thank customers for buying ...

La3 launches on Primotitalia IPTV service
Telecompaper (subscription)

La3 launches on Primotitalia IPTV service. Friday 5 October 2012 | 15:46 CET | News. Italian broadcaster La3, owned by mobile operator 3 Italia, has signed an ...

Digital TV in over 50% of homes worldwide
Broadband TV News

According to the research, cable will remain the chief access channel but will gradually lose ground to satellite and IPTV which will account for 30.0% and 7.3% of TV households, respectively, at the end of 2016. Despite the development of hybrid ...

Telekom Slovenia looks to the future
Broadband TV News

Telekom Slovenia has announced it plans to place great emphasis on the further development and services of its IPTV platform SiOL TV. At the same time, it will ...

Busted — illegal IPTV service that even offered porn films
The Star Online

BUTTERWORTH: Police arrested 12 people and busted what is believed to be a first-of-its-kind illegal Internet Pay Television (IPTV) syndicate in the country, which even offered five pornography channels. Bukit Aman Commercial Crime Investigation ...

Police bust multi-million ringgit IPTV syndicate
The Star Online

BUTTERWORTH: Police detained 12 individuals and busted a first of its kind illegal Internet Pay Television (IPTV) syndicate in Malaysia on Thursday.

Global digital TV penetration passes 50%
IPTV News

The penetration of digital TV services has passed the halfway point worldwide, and will go on to reach 77.6% of all TV households by 2016, according to a new report from French firm IDATE. The total number of TV households worldwide is expected to ...