

Oct. 12, 2012, Daily News

Friday, 12 October 2012

Last Updated Friday, 12 October 2012

Telefonica Brazil's Vivo Participacoes starts delivering IPTV in Sao ...

FierceTelecom

Telefonica Brazil's Vivo Participacoes unit has begun offering its new IPTV service ... The rollout of the IPTV service comes after the telco conducted what it says ...

Brazil's Vivo to launch IPTV in São Paulo imminently

IPTV News

Vivo, a Brazilian subsidiary of Telefónica, has revealed that it has already started testing a new IPTV service called 'Vivo TV Fibra' in São Paulo, with a view to launching the service in the next few weeks. The service is being delivered over both ...

Vivo to inaugurate Sao Paulo IPTV service

TeleGeography

Telefonica of Spain's Brazilian fixed and mobile operator Vivo Participacoes has launched an IPTV service in the city of Sao Paulo over its fibre-to-the-home (FTTH) network. The announcement follows a successful trial period in selected homes and full ...

Assia unveils 100 Mbps vectoring management product

FierceIPTV

Dynamic spectrum management (DSM) software tools provider Assia has introduced a DSL network management system that it said can manage simultaneously vectored and non-vectored lines "to deliver the fastest possible speeds and to achieve the ...

Telefonica Vivo selects Cisco STBs

Advanced Television

The flexible technology platform will enable Vivo TV to deliver advanced IPTV services in HD, including integrated DVR capabilities for customers to pause live ...

Dune HD's Mark Donnigan to Present at Two of Fall's Biggest ...

Melodika.net (press release)

From IPTV set-top boxes designed for niche content delivery, to a nearly limitless array of streaming content delivered over-the-top (OTT), to ongoing consumer ...

Netgem sees revenues rise 24% in Q3

IPTV News

French firm Netgem, a specialist in connected home solutions, has posted revenues of €20.1mn for the third quarter of this year, up 24% from one year previously, with growth both at home and abroad. During the three months to September, the company ...