

Oct. 19, 2012, Daily News

Friday, 19 October 2012

Last Updated Friday, 19 October 2012

Storm of change: coming soon to TV

Sydney Morning Herald

These channels would be largely niche, but they would have television-like content and, through a raft of emerging content platforms such as the X-Box, the T-Box and IPTV-capable televisions, be able to reach increasing audiences. So rather than a ...

New IP video service planned for Caribbean

IPTV News

Columbus Communications, one of the largest MSOs in the Caribbean, has started preparing to launch a new hybrid IP video service in a number of countries in the region, which will offer IP-delivered video-on-demand and TV Everywhere services.

LG Uplus brings Google TV to South Korea

ZDNet

LG Uplus brings Google TV to South Korea. Summary: South Korean telco combines its IPTV service with the Web giant's Google TV offering, and the partnership represents Google's first collaboration with a carrier. Kevin Kwang. By Kevin Kwang | October ...

Now TV launches Chinese TV channels on TM's HyppTV

Telecompaper (subscription)

... Malaysian viewers will be able to view Chinese-language content from International, now Mango and now HaiRun channels via TM's IPTV service, HyppTV.

Now TV Channels To Join TM's HyppTV

Media Research Asia.com (subscription)

TM is a leading triple-play operator in Malaysia with compelling and unique content for its IPTV customers. This partnership demonstrates our strength in ...

Over 15mn new IPTV subs added since June 2011

IPTV News

There were 69mn subscribers to managed IPTV services globally by the end of the first half of this year, with all regions seeing strong uptake and together adding 15.9mn customers over the preceding 12 months, according to new figures from industry ...

Emerging markets sustain global IPTV boom

Broadcast Engineering

The global rise in IPTV subscriptions is at last slowing down a bit but the boom is continuing on the back of strong growth in emerging markets led by China and Russia. Yet, even the more saturated IPTV powerhouses, France and the U.S., each gained 3 ...