

Dec. 26, 2012, Daily News

Wednesday, 26 December 2012

Last Updated Wednesday, 26 December 2012

LG to Expand Google TV Slate in 2013

eWeek

... connection, and can receive traditional TV broadcasts through terrestrial transmissions or via satellite, cable or an Internet Protocol TV (IPTV) set-top box.

LG Plans Google TV Expansion

TechWeekEurope UK

... connection, and can receive traditional TV broadcasts through Analyst calls for December 26

The Malaysian Insider

Potential benefits from collaborating with telcos. Astro's recent partnership with Maxis and Time dotCom to provide IPTV services to the masses could provide a ...

Year in Review: 2012thinkbroadband.comIn July, Sky launched its IPTV service requiring no satellite subscription and Openreach launched its fibre-to-the-premises (FTTP) service), although availability ...

Practical joker throws Quickflix a $5m lifeline

The Australian

... the tangled quote from him that "my investment in Quickflix and to join its board is representative of my significant investments in digital streaming and IPTV.

Pay-TV subscriber growth to slow in 2013

BGR-by Zach Epstein

The global pay-TV subscriber base is expected to top 900 million in 2013 according to recent estimates, driven largely by increased popularity of IPTV services ...

New integrated Google TV models to launch at CES 2013 care of LG

Android Authority

Apart from running IPTV content from Google, the new LG TV sets will feature proprietary technologies from LG, including its "magic remote QWERTY" keyboard.