

Jan 3, 2013, Daily News

Thursday, 03 January 2013

Last Updated Thursday, 03 January 2013

BH Telecom's IPTV service has 67000 users

Telecompaper (subscription)

Bosnia's BH Telecom has ended 2012 with 67,000 IPTV users, according to director Nedžad Residbegovic. Over the past year, Moja TV has added around 1,440 new connections per month, while the number of users has increased by 26,000 over the past ...

ISE 2013: Onelan to show IPTV and digital signage solutions

Installation International

At ISE 2013 Onelan will show its multi-display solution for cost-effective menu board and high-resolution videowall deployment; RMP, its industrial Arm-based ...

iStream to deliver IndiaCast channels to a worldwide audience

e27-by J. Angelo Racoma

In line with this, an adequate collaboration between content providers and platform providers would help get IPTV to reaching critical mass. Recently, we ...

France 24 expands distribution in Europe, Asia, Oceania

Telecompaper (subscription)

In Burma, France 24 English version has launched on the IPTV network Skynet, allowing the channel to be available to 50,000 subscribers across the country.

Broadband to push mobile growth

ITWeb-by Nicola Mawson

Other segments with double-digit revenue growth over the next five years include public cloud, enterprise Ethernet, IPTV, and managed/hosted IP voice, notes ...

The Macalope Daily: Adorable

Macworld

Kelly Clay brings Forbes readers the amazing tale of "Why Intel's New IPTV Service Will Do What Google, Apple, and Microsoft Can't" (no link, but tip o' the ...

Xbox Live region-switching being streamlined this month

Joystiq

Other provisos: some services are region locked, like IPTV, Xbox Music Subscriptions, along with the Hulu and Netflix.

Via: Eurogamer; Source: Neowin ·