

Feb. 5, 2013, Daily News

Tuesday, 05 February 2013

Last Updated Tuesday, 05 February 2013

AXTEL rolls out hybrid IPTV in Mexico

Rapid tv news

Mexican TV operator AXTEL is rolling out an IPTV service as part of a triple-play offering with voice and broadband, and a range of advanced features. AXTEL's service will combine IPTV broadcast channels with multiscreen video-on-demand, ...

Mexico's Axtel adds navigation solution to its hybrid IPTV service

FierceIPTV

Mexican wireline telco Axtel will use navigation technology from A/V interactive specialist Mirada to bolster its newly launched IPTV service for subscribers in Mexico City, Guadalajara and Monterrey. According to a story in Broadcast Engineering, the ...

Axtel launches IPTV with Ericsson

Communications, Engineering & Design Magazine

Ericsson has to date signed more than 240 IPTV contracts. These include commercial multi-screen contracts; IPTV system integration projects; IPTV headend contracts; and IPTV infrastructure contracts for access, metro transport and IP edge

Axtel adopts Mirada's Navi service for IPTV platform

Telecompaper (subscription)

Mexican fixed-line operator Axtel has deployed Mirada's Navi service, in collaboration with Ericsson, for its recently-launched IPTV platform. Axtel's pay-TV hybrid service combines IPTV broadcast channels, on-demand (VoD, time-shift and network PVR ...

IPTV: It's not just for telcos anymore

FierceIPTV

Earnings calls always provide a glimpse into the workings of super-secretive multichannel video programming distributors (MVPDs), who usually treat the outside world with just a little more respect than San Francisco 49ers coach Jim Harbaugh.

Bell Aliant Q4 revenues decline to $696 million as IPTV, Internet gains offset ...

FierceTelecom

As seen in previous quarters, the growth in Internet, IPTV and wireless revenues offset expected declines in local and long distance voice revenues. During the quarter, operating expenses increased by CAD 2 million (USD 2 million) from the same quarter ...

IPTV to generate $53bn in 2018

IPTV News

The global pay-TV market will grow from US$ 238bn in 2012 to US$ 304bn in 2018, with IPTV to continue increasing its share of this total at the expense of other platforms such as cable and satellite, according to US firm ABI Research. IPTV is expected ...