

Feb. 14, 2013, Daily News

Thursday, 14 February 2013

Last Updated Thursday, 14 February 2013

Intel IPTV set-top box in the works

Expert Reviews

Intel has revealed plans to get into the set-top box business with a consumer-oriented device designed for streaming video over the internet. Intel already produces a low-power Atom CE processor range specifically for consumer electronics, but the ...

China's YOU On Demand expands reach with Tianjin IPTV deal

IPTV News

YOU On Demand, one of China's leading pay-per-view and video-on-demand platforms, has signed a distribution agreement with IPTV operator Tianjin IPTV which covers households across 16 major districts and counties in the greater Tianjin metropolitan ...

Google Serves BT With Patent Suit In The UK Using Motorola TV ...

TechCrunch-by Ingrid Lunden

... the UK finding reveals that Google is using Motorola patents to go after BT, claiming it is making infringements in its IPTV services and its set-top boxes. Thus a ...

CenturyLink's 4Q shines with growth in IPTV, enterprise services

FierceTelecom-by Sean Buckley

As seen in previous quarters, more than 90 percent of its Prism IPTV subscribers also purchased broadband service. It began a soft launch of Prism in one of the ...

CenturyLink's IPTV, business services offset legacy declines; Q4 earnings down ...

FierceTelecom

Regional Markets: On the consumer side of the Regional Markets segment, CenturyLink added 41,000 new broadband Internet subscribers and over 10,000 Prism IPTV customers, ending the quarter with a total of 5.85 million and 115,000 subscribers, ...

CenturyLink adds 10000 IPTV subscribers in fourth quarter

FierceIPTV

CenturyLink (NYSE: CTL) has continued to follow a pattern that's become as familiar to telcos as it's become alien to incumbent cable operators: It added 10,000 ...

Cisco won't sell low-end set-tops as it transitions to the cloud

FierceIPTV

Cisco (Nasdaq: CSCO) is rethinking the way it wants to sell set-top boxes, preferring an IP-based model with software and features integrated into the cloud, ...