

May 14, 2013, Daily News

Tuesday, 14 May 2013

Last Updated Wednesday, 15 May 2013

Telstra passes half a million T-Box subs

IPTV News

Australia's dominant telco Telstra hopes to get its 'T-Box' IPTV device into more than a million homes by 2016, and is planning to forge new partnerships with the country's free-to-air TV networks to help drive take-up, according to local reports. Rick ...

Telstra's T-Box boxing its way to the top - ITWire.com

iTWire

Telstra today reported sales of its T-Box IPTV set-top boxes hit a mighty 500,000 this week, well on the way to the telco's aggressive target of more than 1 million. Telstra's desire of become a leading media player is becoming more and more realistic ...

Rural Iowa telco goes FTTH with Adtran

Communications, Engineering & Design Magazine

The teachers are able to give students a broader view of the world by integrating current events into the lessons through IPTV and DVR capability," said Dean Schnoes, superintendent, Exira-EHK Community Schools. "The technology provided by Marne Elk ...

Australian broadcaster Seven West Media eyes hybrid IPTV

FierceIPTV

According to a story in The Register, Seven West Media told investors that it is adding an IPTV model to its distribution agenda. Speculation is that ad-supported broadcasts will be part of the mix and that using the Internet will help support targeted ...

Canada's Telus sees TV additions slow down

IPTV News

Canadian telco Telus continues to add TV subscribers at a healthy rate, with 34k added in the first quarter of this year, but concedes that this is 10k fewer than its gains for the same period of last year. The telco, which operates separate IPTV and ...

BT expands BT Vision dev team

IPTV News

UK telco BT has given a strong indication that it plans to keep its 'BT Vision' platform, despite the launch of YouView last year, by advertising for a UX designer to work on both. The job ad, posted on LinkedIn last week, states that the company is ...

Tech Analyst Jeff Kagan on Aereo Challenge to Cable TV and IPTV - Newsday

Newsday

They compete with cable television, traditional television over antenna, Internet TV or IPTV and the entire space. Here is an interview on Aereo on CNBC from May 10, 2013. Principal analyst Jeff Kagan comments on this Aereo story. "The television ...