

May 16, 2013, Daily News

Thursday, 16 May 2013

Last Updated Friday, 17 May 2013

AT&T revamps U-verse On Demand storefront

IPTV News

UPDATED: US telco AT&T has launched a new version of its On Demand storefront for customers of its IPTV service 'U-verse' in a number of markets across the country, and plans to introduce an advanced recommendation engine at some point in the future.

WISI delivers HbbTV over IPTV

Broadband TV News

The newly configured end device for WISI's Multi Screen Content Management System AiMS combines HbbTV with conventional IPTV for the first time in a demo alongside partner IP.Netcom. A set-top running DVB-IP will be shown processing and displaying ...

Vodafone goes old school in German hook-up with Deutsche Telekom

Proactive Investors UK

Vodafone's (LON:VOD) German arm is to hook up with Deutsche Telekom to offer high-speed fixed-line broadband and internet protocol television (IPTV) services across Germany. Described as "a next-generation network access agreement", use of Deutsche ...

Deutsche Telekom to sell new IPTV-friendly wholesale offering to Vodafone

DigitalTVEurope.net

Vodafone Deutschland has signed a preliminary contract with Deutsche Telekom that will enable it to deliver services including IPTV over Telekom's fibre network. Vodafone will share the investment risk of Telekom's fibre rollout. The incumbent telco is ...

Telstra fires 'express TV' salvo

The Australian

TELSTRA is developing plans to make popular television series available to its customers soon after they air in the US in a bid to drive penetration of its T-Box IPTV service and curb the illegal spread of copyrighted TV shows and movies in Australia ...

TalkTalk claims fastest growing UK new IPTV business

Rapid tv news

Reporting its yearly financials for the year ended 31 March 2013, the UK ISP, one of the founding partners of the YouView project which is now contributing to its business, now boasts 230,000 IPTV subscribers, growing by 12,000 per week as TalkTalk ...

Deutsche Telekom forges IPTV pact with Vodafone

IPTV News

Germany's biggest telco Deutsche Telekom has signed a groundbreaking agreement with its main rival Vodafone under which the latter will deliver IPTV services over DT's broadband lines by the end of the year, as part of efforts to spread the risk of DT ...