July 28, 2013, Daily News

Sunday, 28 July 2013
Last Updated Sunday, 28 July 2013

Foxtel to launch IPTV service in August
Telecompaper (subscription)
Australian pay-TV provider Foxtel will launch its IPTV   service Play in August. The service will allow a more "a la carte" access to content, The Australian reports citing Foxtel's executive   director of television, Brian Walsh. The Play service will not ...

Net Insight revenue down 3.1% in Q2
Telecompaper (subscription)
Sweden-based broadcast and IPTV   transport system provider Net Insight reported net sales down 3.1   percent year-on-year to SEK 72.7 million for the the second quarter.   During the second quarter, the business area Broadcast and Media Networks (BMN) ...

How Telstra united TV and digital analytics
CMO
Telstra Digital Media and IPTV   general manager of digital platforms and user experience, Dale Cohen,   said publishers and advertisers have always obsessed about their   audiences. Yet while measurement, testing, analytics and optimisation   are becoming the ...

BT Sport gains half a million customers
 Screen Digest (press release)
  In May 2013, BT announced its plan to make BT Sport available to all BT Broadband customers, via its IPTV platform, online and via satellite; using premium ..

BT Sport All Set To Air
 Broadcast Engineering
  BT Sport is a new broadcast operation from UK telco BT. The three new channels will air through BT's IPTV package, BT TV and BT Infinity, as well the Sky DTH .

 M1 launches IPTV service Telecompaper (subscription) Singaporean communications provider M1 has introduced MiBox, an IPTV service that offers video-on-demand, games, e-books, and apps. Priced at SGD 8 a ...

 YouView seeks multi-device expansion Advanced Television Open IPTV   platform YouView – backed by a consortium of the UK's broadcasters and   telco providers – is looking to develop the service beyond its set-top ...

 Sky's NOW TV Box 'creates IPTV sets for just £9.99' - uSwitch.com   The NOW TV Box allows viewers to enjoy on-demand content on their TV.

uSwitch.com Broadband - News

 #