

Aug. 23, 2013, Daily News

Thursday, 22 August 2013

Last Updated Friday, 23 August 2013

Dutch digital TV inches upward in Q2 Rapid tv news For 2013, Telecompaper expects a growth of 7.2% in digital TV connections to around 6.83 million, driven by growth of IPTV via DSL and FTTH. Cable will also ...

UK mobile use for TV up 20% IPTV News Mobile device use for watching TV in the UK increased by around 20% in the last year – but still accounts for only 1.5% of all TV viewing, new figures show. US 18-24s as likely to take up pay-TV as not IPTV News 18-24 year-old ‘late millennials’ moving into their first non-college home are as likely to sign up immediately for a cable, satellite or telco TV service as they are ...

People power channels radical change Sydney Morning Herald IPTV is essentially TV-like services delivered by broadband. What left it languishing in the technological shadows for many years was a disconnect between ...

Haivision driving digital signage IPTV for MLB's Miami Marlins Digital Signage Today With extremely low latency, H.264 video compression and 1080p60 video quality, Haivision's Makito HD encoders are designed for IPTV and HD digital signage, ... Digitalization Mandate to Drive Demand for Video Encoders ... DigitalJournal.com In addition, continued migration towards efficient compression engines and growth in HD channels are forecast to drive growth in the sector. IPTV with a CAGR ... US multiscreen growth 'depends on pay-TV competition' IPTV News The number of installed connected TVs in the US will treble by 2017, with the number of tablets in use expected to double, new research predicts. A report from ...