

Aug. 25, 2013, Daily News

Saturday, 24 August 2013

Last Updated Sunday, 25 August 2013

Korea Telecom Launches Web Based IPTV Service The Herald | HeraldOnline.com Korean IPTV operator KT has announced the launch of "Olleh TV Smart", an HTML5 based next-generation IPTV service accessible from both set-top boxes and ...

Korea Telecom unveils Olleh TV Smart, an HTML5 based IPTV service Telecom Lead Korean IPTV operator KT has launched Olleh TV Smart, an HTML5 based IPTV service accessible from both set-top boxes and user devices such as PC's, ... South Korea's KT starts HTML5-based IPTV service FierceIPTV South Korean IPTV provider KT has launched an HTML-based IPTV service that makes its content available both on traditional set-top boxes and other ... KT Launches IPTV Over Web Media Research Asia.com (subscription) SEOUL, South Korea/PRNewswire/ -- Korean IPTV operator KT has announced the launch of "Olleh TV Smart", an HTML5 based next-generation IPTV service .. Vice Media sells 5% stake to 21st Century Fox IPTV News Rupert Murdoch's 21st Century Fox has paid US$70m for a stake in digital media company Vice Media. Fox will now own a 5% stake in Vice, which runs edgy ... Sony IPTV service planned, live TV streaming imminent Digital Spy Sony IPTV service planned, live TV streaming imminent. Published Monday, Aug 19 2013, 6:55am EDT | By Hunter Skipworth | Add comment. Recommend 0

Most European broadband to still come from copper lines in 2020 DigitalTVEurope.net Most of Europe will still get its broadband delivered over copper phone lines, despite the rollout of fibre, according to research by broadband, IPTV and VoIP ...

SRG taps Net Insight to build contribution network for event Telecompaper (subscription) Switzerland's public broadcaster SRG SSR has selected a range of services from Sweden-based broadcast and IPTV transport system provider Net Insight to ... Global TV and video income to rise 23% by 2017 IPTV News Cable is set to remain dominant, serving 571.7 million homes. Satellite will rise to 32.4%, while IPTV will rise to 8.5% of total households. Terrestrial TV will fall to ..