

Jan 16, 2014, Daily News

Thursday, 16 January 2014

Last Updated Thursday, 16 January 2014

Growing Demand for High-Speed Internet Connectivity Drives the ...

Consumer Electronics Net

Key factors driving demand for FTTH include growing popularity of video entertainment, IPTV, and other bandwidth heavy applications, and the ensuing need for ...

TDG: Pay-TV resilient (but usage lower among younger adults) IPTV News

According to data released by The Diffusion Group, nearly nine in ten adult broadband users in the US subscribe to an incumbent pay-TV service such ...

TTNet to improve broadband, IPTV with Alcatel-Lucent Telecompaper (subscription)

Alcatel-Lucent will deploy its Motive Data Management Platform for TTNNet, a broadband service provider in Turkey, to help improve the performance of ...

Israel regulator sets telecoms prices for new wholesale market Reuters ...

TV over the Internet (IPTV). "Opening the possibility to all telecoms companies to use Internet infrastructure of Bezeq and HOT, at wholesale prices,

9 in 10 US net users are pay-TV subs

Advanced Television

... an incumbent pay-TV service such as cable, satellite, or IPTV. The use of such services is greatest among adults 35 and older and less among younger adults.

Romtelecom to expand cable reach

Broadband TV News

Romtelecom operates DTH and IPTV services, both of which use the Dolce brand. It is also present in Romania's cable market through the subsidiary NextGen ...

Irdeto & Akamai: 5 Steps to Making Multi-Screen Work with the Cloud

IPTV News

As we charge into 2014, operators aren't just toying with the idea of granting consumers access to content from a variety of connected devices; it is now the ...