

April 15, 2014, Daily News

Tuesday, 15 April 2014

Last Updated Wednesday, 16 April 2014

Sky and TalkTalk to launch Ultra-Fast Broadband

IPTV News

Sky and TalkTalk they have joined forces with CityFibre to create a new company that will deliver ultra-fast broadband services in the City of York. The new joint ...

KT gains 5000 broadband subs in March

Telecompaper (subscription)

... base narrowed by 1,000 subscribers to 3.48 million. KT also ended March with 5.16 million IPTV subscribers, after adding 75,000 new customers in the month.

Quantenna working on 10Gbps WiFi chipset

SlashGear

Quantenna makes chips that are used in hardware by major providers like AT&T, DirecTV, and many others to provide over-the-top media services, IPTV and ...

Crnogorski Telekom promotes Samsung tablets, 4G modem

Telecompaper (subscription)

Likewise, new and existing ADSL/IPTV/Extra Trio users can buy the tablet in 24 installments for EUR 9.90. As part of the campaign, customers can also purchase ...

Vodafone NL to deploy IPTV solution from Entone

Telecoms.com-15 hours ago

Vodafone-Thuis Cloud TV and connected home specialist Entone has announced a deal with Vodafone Netherlands that will see the Dutch operator deploying ...

Two European Operators Select Espial to Deliver Multiscreen Services

Wall Street Journal

Espial is a leading supplier of digital TV and IPTV software and solutions to cable MSOs and telecommunications operators as well as consumer electronics ...

Opera's Skyfire adds video analytics dashboard to Rocket Optimizer ...

IPTV News-12 hours ago

Opera Software's Skyfire unit today released Rocket Insights as part of its Rocket Optimizer platform to help operators better manage their network loads by ...