

May 20, 2014, Daily News

Tuesday, 20 May 2014

Last Updated Wednesday, 21 May 2014

IPTV providers want set-tops with 802.11ac by 2015, report says

FierceCable-10 hours ago

IPTV service providers are not content with just any wireless connections coming from their set-top boxes. They're demanding 802.11ac, a potent version of the ...

ANGA COM 2014: KabelKiosk launches German IPTV platform

Broadband TV News

Mein Fernsehen (Eutelsat) German B2B platform provider KabelKiosk has launched its IPTV platform meinFernsehen (myTelevision) at cable, satellite and ...

Swisscom Deploys a New "TV 2.0" IPTV Android Set-Top Box ...

Virtual Press Office (press release)

A local time shift buffer allows pausing and resuming live TV. Thanks to the network PVR, the subscriber may record as many events (scheduled or passed) as ...

Purchase of DirecTV To Make AT&T Major Player in Video

NewsFactor Network

This will also let AT&T compete on a nationwide scale rather than just in its region and allow the company to offer a larger combination of satellite TV, IPTV, ...

Netflix Lays Out a Path to Personalization

Techzone360

Let's face it: ever since digital delivery and IPTV became a reality, consumers have found themselves faced with a dizzying array of options for linear, streamed ...

ANGA COM 2014: OTT pushes multi-platform delivery

Broadband TV News

Michael Hagspihl, head of marketing at Telekom Deutschland, said that the telco follows a universal availability approach with its IPTV platform Entertain by ...

In Pay-TV Merger Mania, What Will Verizon Do?

Businessweek

... business and a path to leverage its investments in IPTV and content delivery networks to evolve the DISH video biz into a national over-the-top video provider.