

July 10, 2014, Daily News

Thursday, 10 July 2014

Last Updated Friday, 11 July 2014

Rise of IPTV changes film experience

The Korea Herald

Chae Yoon-seok is an office worker with a 5- and 2-year-old. When Disney's animated film "Frozen" hit local theaters in January, his daughters became part of ...

Cogeco writes off IPTV, signs up with Tivo

Telecompaper (subscription)

Cogeco Cable reported profit for its fiscal third quarter down to CAD 35.5 million from CAD 48.1 million a year earlier after taking a CAD 32 million impairment ...

Hypptv Launches Alhijrah Video-On-Demand Channel

malaysiandigest.com-1 hour ago

Telekom Malaysia's IPTV service HyppTV has officially launched its first Islamic video-on-demand channel in the form of AlHijrah On Demand. The channel ...

Research Predicts More Than One Billion DTV Homes By The End ...

TV Technology

In addition, the number of homes paying for IPTV will more than triple between 2010 and 2014, the Digital TV Research report says. Global digital TV penetration ...

Netflix captures exclusive ZOO rights

IPTV News

Netflix and CBS announced today Netflix will be the exclusive US subscription video on demand (SVOD) home to the future CBS drama ZOO. Last week, CBS ...

INSIGHT: Could Android TV hurt consoles?

MCV

Neither of these have been able to generate any significant ripple of disruption: IPTV services are constrained to small catchment areas, while Android consoles ...

Rostelecom offers Disney films over VoD

Telecompaper (subscription)

Russian national operator Rostelecom has introduced the opportunity to subscribe to the 'Wonderful World from Disney' VoD package for its IPTV subscribers.