

Nov 8, 2014, Daily News

Saturday, 08 November 2014

Last Updated Sunday, 09 November 2014

BBC Worldwide to open Store in 2015

IPTV News

Jonathan Green will join BBC Worldwide next month as the new director of BBC Store, the upcoming digital content retail service now scheduled to launch next ...

Guest post: The hi-tech hotel

Travolution

In particular, IPTV and TV on Demand have become more prevalent. Furthermore they have been adapted to allow for the console to be used as a central, ...

Hungary digital television subs up 12000 in September

Telecompaper (subscription)

Of these subscriptions, 955,038 were analogue, down from 960,510 million one month earlier and 1.096 million were digital TV subscriptions (cable or IPTV), ...

Hungarian digital TV growth continues

Broadband TV News

The total number of homes opting for cable or IPTV services, based on data from the eight major market players, stood at 2,051,111, of which 1,096,073 were ...

Sky offers £3 million for new arts projects

IPTV News

Sky is encouraging arts organisations and production companies to pitch collaboratively for up to £1million annually on new TV ideas. The investment is part of ...

Sky Sports set for BT Youview launch

Broadcast

... today by the Honourable Mr Justice Roth, who ruled that Sky must offer to wholesale its sports channels for distribution via IPTV on the 1m-strong TV service.

Netflix to adapt Snicket series

C21Media

This week, UK hybrid DTT/IPTV platform YouView added the service to its suite of video-on-demand (VoD) and subscription VoD operators. AndyDickens.

AT&T, National Instruments, Huawei & Cisco to Headline Dais of ...

Virtual-Strategy Magazine (press release)

... to topics like &ldquo;Big Data Cloud Networking,&rdquo; &ldquo;Wired Broadband xDSL/IPTV Systems&rdquo; and &ldquo;mmW Coverage and Mobility for Next Generation Cellular Systems.&rdquo;