

May 20, 2015, Daily News

Wednesday, 20 May 2015

Last Updated Thursday, 21 May 2015

Fetch TV rides Netflix wave

C21Media

Netflix's rocketing growth in Australia is spurring demand for Fetch TV, which provides a range of IPTV services to telcos Optus, iiNet and Dodo. The OTT ...

Binge or bust

C21Media

With the announcement of new slimmer IPTV services – such as Dish's Sling TV and the Apple TV service, which will comprise a smaller roster of pay TV ...

Eurobites: Orange Gets EC Nod on Jazztel

Light Reading

UK-based set-top box and IPTV/OTT video gateway vendor Amino Technologies plc (London: AMO) is acquiring Finnish cloud TV platform specialist Booxmedia ...

Imagine approved for Ericsson Mediaroom

Rapid tv news

... live/multiscreen transcoder and Selenio Media Convergence Platform (MCP) Encoder have been approved for use with Ericsson Mediaroom IPTV platforms.

KPN to phase out Digitenne DTT service?

Broadband TV News-14 hours ago

KPN flags Dutch incumbent KPN is actively promoting its IPTV service among its DTT customers by increasing the DVB-T subscription price to above the basic ...

Amino acquires Booxmedia

Stock Market Wire

StockMarketWire.com - Amino Technologies - a leader in digital entertainment solutions for IPTV, OTT and in-home multimedia distribution - has acquired .

Amino earmarks €10.5m to acquire cloud TV platform provider

Business Weekly-14 hours ago

Cambridge UK IPTV technology specialist Amino has paid €7.9 million for a Finnish business that provides a cloud TV platform. An additional €2.6m will be paid ...