

Feb. 4, 2016, Daily News

Thursday, 04 February 2016

Last Updated Friday, 05 February 2016

Nokia launches analytics to predict network capacity needs, protect ...

Voice & Data Online

Nokia Service Quality Manager (SQM) for IPTV lets operators rapidly identify and fix IPTV service issues 50 % more quickly to halve the number of ...

O2 Slovakia applies for launch of O2 TV

Telecompaper (subscription)-

The operator has applied to the licensing council for registration of retransmission, which is required for cable, satellite and IPTV operators. O2 wants to provide ...

Freetime growth drives strong quarter for Freesat

IPTV News

Freesat, the subscription free satellite TV service, today announces a strong final quarter to 2015, with the addition of 36,000 new homes in the three months to ...

IP&TV News Roundtable: Partnerships Driving the Smart Home

IPTV News

If you were at CES last month, no doubt you would have been immersed in IoT in general and the Smart Home in particular – specifically regarding ...

Eurobites: Liberty Gets Green Light on BASE Deal

Light Reading

(NYSE: NOK) has launched two new analytics services to help speed up network capacity planning and improve IPTV service quality. The former assesses ...

Vikings back on the shores of Amazon Prime Video

IPTV News

Norse-age drama Vikings is returning to Amazon Prime Video for a fourth season on 19th February 2016. The ten episode run will air weekly on Fridays

BCE to hike dividend 5% despite drop in profit

The Globe and Mail (subscription)

On the residential side of its business, BCE added 74,000 new IPTV (Internet protocol television) subscribers and gained 39,000 new Internet customers.