

July 6, 2016, Daily News

Wednesday, 06 July 2016

Last Updated Wednesday, 06 July 2016

SK Telecom gets nod to purchase CJ HelloVision

Korea JoongAng Daily

SK Telecom, KT and LG U+ all operate IPTV services, similar to cable TV, using their Internet networks, and SK Telecom's merger with the nation's largest cable ...

South Korea's antitrust agency rejects SKT's cable-TV bid

Mobile World Live

Merging its SK Broadband unit, with about three million IPTV subscribers, with CJ HelloVision, which has about 4.2 million subscribers, would narrow the gap ...

Vivacom promotes TV add-ons

Telecompaper (subscription)

Vivacom started a promotional campaign whereby it offers lower prices for its TV add-ons for DTH and IPTV during the summer. The 'HD Light' add-on is ...

HT provides Pickbox package to Max subscribers

Telecompaper (subscription)

Previously, the Pickbox service was only available to IPTV subscribers of the operator. The Pickbox offer includes over 70 TV series, over 300 movies and ...

IPTV services are offered in 10 Arab countries

Zawya (press release) (registration)

By May 2016, fourteen service providers in ten countries in the Arab World offered IPTV services. Arab Advisors Group's analysis revealed that GCC countries ...

Leading Israeli Telecom Group Cellcom Israel Chooses RAD's ...

TelecomEngine

This allows Cellcom Israel to identify and segment performance degradation for mobile and IPTV services. The solution supports thousands of eNodeBs and ...

ARPU increase masks cable TV slowdown

Broadband TV News

In Western Europe, IPTV platforms provide the biggest threat; Central Europe is also under pressure from IPTV, though it's pay satellite that has the edge here.