

July 27, 2016, Daily News

Wednesday, 27 July 2016

Last Updated Wednesday, 27 July 2016

SK Telecom's stock rises despite canceled M&A

The Korea Herald-14 hours ago

Despite the failed merger and acquisition deal between its subsidiary SK Broadband, which offers IPTV services, and cable TV network operator CJ HelloVision, ...

C Spire Charts Pay-TV BYOD Strategy, Ditching the Set-Top-Box

Telecompetitor (blog)

C Spire will deliver their IPTV service, including their linear channel line-up, to IP-enabled devices provided by end customers, removing the need for a ...

Beltelecom upgrades network in Grodno

Telecompaper (subscription)

... to GPON technology there. Broadband at up to 100 Mbps, as well as Smart Zala IPTV services from the national operator will become available in the town.

Huawei sows local seeds

Trinidad Guardian

... and how current GPON services work and are setup including high-speed internet, VOIP and IPTV," said Dylan Deyal, a Information Technology student.

Ofcom detonates tactical nuclear weapon underneath Openreach

thinkbroadband.com

... more interested in steering Openreach investment into their emerging IPTV ranges and competing with Virgin Media that we might see Openreach doing little ...

Orange's (ORAN) CEO Stephane Richard on H1 2016 Results ...

Seeking Alpha

Resulting from this is also a strong growth in IPTV customer bases. We have today over 8.1 million TV customers in Europe and this is also due to the success of ...

Orange to launch joint offer with Canal

Broadband TV News

Announcing its second quarter financials, Orange now has 8,146,000 TV subscribers, principally on IPTV, a fall from 8,182,000. Net income was €3.323 billion in ...