

Jan. 19, 2017, Daily News

Thursday, 19 January 2017

VITEC Acquires Stake In Anevia's Share Capital

Satellite PR News (press release)

Anevia is a global leader in OTT and IPTV solution software for the delivery of live TV and VOD. Founded in 2003 by the developers of the well-known VLC ...

Proximus adds radio, podcasts to IPTV service

Telecompaper (subscription)

Belgian operator Proximus announced the addition of radio stations and podcasts to its IPTV service. Thanks to the agreement with Radioline, the company can ...

Why Rogers Communications Inc is the Canadian telco to own right ...

Financial Post

Those include the company's roughly $500 million IPTV write-down and delay, a CRTC ruling that reduces the rate bigger players can charge independent ...

Pay-TV in Latin America: Multiplay Service Bundling and Investment ...

IT Business Net

... cable to remain as the most popular pay-TV technologies during the 2016-2021 period, we anticipate both technologies will progressively lose weight to IPTV.

New Verimatrix Bulk Decryption Capabilities from Inca Networks ...

Satellite PR News (press release)

"Historically IPTV operators have not had a good technical solution to affordably deliver Verimatrix encrypted services to wholesale partners, MDUs, schools and ...

Telecom Big Three Battle over AI Personal Assistants

The Korea Bizwire

LG introduced in February of last year U+TV G Woofer, which is an IPTV console equipped with a high-definition speaker and IoT functionality, and it's likely the ...

A1 Telekom Austria launches cloud-based PVR

Broadband TV News

WATCH VIDEO. Austrian telco A1 Telekom Austria has introduced a virtual personal video recorder (PVR) for the customers of its domestic IPTV platform A1 TV.