

Oct. 25 2006 Daily News

Wednesday, 25 October 2006

T-Online to offer IPTV in November

Budapest Sun - Budapest,Hungary

THE internet division of Magyar Telecom, T-Online, is to launch internet-based commercial television services in November, the company announced last week. ...

ISMA Addresses Fast RTP Channel Change for IPTV

TVover.net - St. Louis,MO,USA

Fast channel change was identified as a vital Quality of Experience issue potentially affecting consumer adoption of IPTV at the recent Summits that ISMA held ...

Juniper pushes IPTV capable routers

m-net - Wellington,New Zealand

The battle for the hearts and minds of New Zealand broadcasting executives controlling IPTV rollouts has ramped up a notch with Juniper networks' concerted ...

ISMA Addresses Fast RTP Channel Change for IPTV, Seeks Industry ...

Business Wire (press release) - San Francisco,CA,USA

SAN FRANCISCO--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Responding to the industry's need for fast IPTV channel changes, ISMA has begun work on a new specification addressing ...

Magyar Telekom launches commercial IPTV service in Hungary

Portfolio.hu - Budapest,Hungary

"In comparison to "traditional" television the IPTV service to be launched on the market under the name of T-Home TV offers revolutionary new experience ...

Levinsky takes up IPTV role at Telus

C21Media - London,England,UK

NEWS BRIEF: Keri Levinsky, former director of partnership marketing at Canada's Achilles Media, has joined telco Telus to help develop its internet ...

All West Selects Latens Conditional Access to Secure IPTV Services

IPTV News (press release) - UK

October 25, 2006 – Latens Systems, provider of IPTV Conditional Access, has announced that All West Communications, Inc., a provider of IPTV services in the ...

Propagating the triple play through the house

Ars Technica - Boston,MA,USA

... one or two locations in the house. HPNA 3.0 has the backing of AT&T and some other IPTV providers. Its ability to work over both ...