

May 24, 2017, Daily News

Wednesday, 24 May 2017

BT: "IPTV can lead to fully-connected population"

Advanced Television

Helen Burrows, Head of Policy at BT, has called for the UK government to take policy decisions that she suggests would lead to a more connected society, ...

EW Goms launches IPTV service with Zattoo

Telecompaper (subscription)

Swiss utilities group EW Goms has launched a new IPTV offer called Waly.tv. The multiscreen service uses a hosted platform from Zattoo and a box from German ...

When Gig Speeds Alone Aren't Enough

Light Reading

However, in the case of the deployment described by Hicks, the operator wasn't creating a virtual LAN for its IPTV traffic, and thus it generated a traffic bottleneck ...

TVAddons abandons Kodi add-on amid legal uncertainty

IPPro The Internet

IPTV boxes were the subject of a Court of Justice of the EU (CJEU) ruling in April that effectively made selling so-called 'fully loaded' Kodi boxes illegal in the ...

Google I/O 2017 Was All About Artificial Intelligence

MENAFN.COM

He follows wireless, wire line, telecom, Internet, cable TV, IPTV, Cloud, Mobile Pay, FinTech and communications technology. Email him at His ...

Amazon Channels launches in the UK and Germany

Broadband TV News

Content-wise we notice that there are quite a lot of niche channels available from providers that have difficulty getting access to major cable and IPTV platforms.