

July 18, 2017, Daily News

Tuesday, 18 July 2017

Last Updated Tuesday, 18 July 2017

In the TV Biz, AT&T Walks a Tricky Line

Light Reading

While AT&T says it's not abandoning its original IPTV product, it's also made clear it's not focusing its resources there either. For example, new features coming ...

Satnews Daily

SatNews Publishers

Widely adopted and trusted by operators in the global broadcast, satellite, cable, telco, IPTV, Over-The-Top (OTT) and post-production markets, Interra Systems' ...

Sky Deutschland to launch Swiss OTT sport service - report

Telecompaper (subscription)

... has been offering Sky Deutschland's channels to Swiss households via cable, satellite and IPTV for years. But recently, Swiss cable operator UPC Switzerland ...

Jeff Kagan: Coming Soon, Another Fox News Like TV Network

Equities.com

He follows wireless, wire line, telecom, Internet, cable TV, IPTV, Cloud, Mobile Pay, FinTech and communications technology. Email him at jeff@jeffKAGAN.com.

End of Net Neutrality Could Affect Broadcasters

Radio magazine

... blocked it, but because your ISP limits streaming video bandwidth within its network... which might just happen to benefit its legacy cable TV or IPTV system.

Foxtel you HAD ONE JOB!

PC Authority

HD* would finally arrive on their IPTV services, making most of HBO's very pretty content worth watching on a screen bigger than an iPad. The price of entry to ...

Foxtel Now crashes during 'Games of Thrones' premiere

CNET

Foxtel says it's "devastated" after its IPTV service Foxtel Now crashed last night, just as desperate Australians all across the country were trying to stream "Game ...